Ref. No.: ADITI/HO/2023/CIRCULAR/008

Dear Cotton Growers/ Esteemed Operators,

Greetings of the day!

In the course of our recent interactions with esteemed Agricultural Scientists, including Dr. C. R. Patil, we are pleased to bring to your attention an exciting opportunity for organic cotton seed production in collaboration with the University of Agricultural Sciences (UAS), Dharwad, Karnataka.

The University, renowned for breeding hybrid long staple cotton varieties such as Dharwad Hybrid Cotton and Varalaxmi, has expressed keen interest in producing organic cotton seeds tailored to your preferences for the upcoming season.

To facilitate this initiative, the University is organizing an Agricultural Event from 26th November to 10th December 2023 and a meeting can be organised with the concerned scientists. Those who are interested in exploring the possibility of organic cotton seed production with the support of UAS are encouraged to reach out to Dr. C. R. Patil or our Regional Representative, Shivprasad Hiremath if you are not able to make it to the event.

UAS, Dharwad, boasts extensive experience in both breeding and production of organic seeds. The university possesses fertile farms with black cotton soil, ensuring an ideal environment for organic cotton cultivation. Additionally, they have access to the necessary organic inputs and resources.

If you are interested in availing the services of UAS for organic cotton seed production, please let us know at your earliest convenience. We are more than happy to facilitate this initiative through our regional office and ensure a seamless collaboration between you and the University.

This presents a unique opportunity to enhance the quality and sustainability of your cotton cultivation. We look forward to your positive response and the possibility of jointly contributing to the growth of organic cotton production. Thanks in advance.
